Chase Instinct

All dogs are born with a natural instinct to chase small furry and feathered things. This is a very dangerous occupation that I strongly advice you to prevent. Your dog may take it into its head to chase something across the road or in front of a car entering the car park of your daily walk. Put your puppy on a lead and teach them not to chase when out on a walk and at home in the garden

Make sure your puppy is a good distance away from the noise the first time you expose puppy to loud noise. The aim is not to frighten, just get them used to noise slowly!

When to ask for help?

If you are at all worried about your puppy's behaviour or think your puppy is becoming fearful, i.e. running away from new experiences, hiding, barking, shaking, biting, having toileting accidents, please tell me about it. Do not leave the problem to get worse give me a ring at home or ask in class, others may benefit from your question.

Remember it should be fun!
